

FIT for Change - Field Intelligence and Technology to uplevel the collective capacity of social change agents: Learning together how to transform a metacrisis into a metamorphosis.

Erasmus+ Strategic Partnership - Joint project with The Hague Center, Life Itself, Emerge, IFIS, Ekskåret Foundation

Co-Initiator, Co-Creator and contributor from CHE, D.A.CH:
Claudine Villemot-Kienzle

Start date: 01.09.2022 - End date:31.08.2025

FIT is an action research project that has the following aims:

- to map the emerging ecosystem of holistic/integral/metamodern political innovations and make it visible to all actors inside and outside of the field
- to explore the potential of Communities of Coherence as collective fields for authentic co-creation, fostering social and transformative innovation in all sectors of society
- to build a community of transformative socio-political actors committed to the vision of a new world based on a holistic/integral/metamodern paradigm
- to develop learning journeys to enable broader groups to build individual and collective integral and holistic skills and capacities for engaging in transformative innovation, including digital tools to facilitate learning and coherence building

Project summary:

European citizens are experiencing multiple connected crises. We want to give every European person a way to learn and participate in generating a better world. This project will produce an innovative, collective learning model and supporting digital map and tools to connect the transnational movement of integral/holistic change agents and share their emerging knowledge at scale. It will open the door for millions of citizens to learn quickly and contribute meaningfully to a massive cultural transition.

FIT is going to implement the following activities:

- 1) map the social change field, identify learning opportunities and gaps
- 2) build field coherence with our project through online and in-person events
- 3) prototype an inclusive experience and supporting digital learning tool that guides people to take part in the community.
- 4) facilitate learning journeys to social change agents, professional leaders and everyday citizens.
- 5) share results and learning resources with influencers, politicians, leaders and citizens

FITT expects the following project results and other outcomes:

- Coherent identity emerges for social change field
- The field feels coherent as 'people with shared purpose', able to better synergise their impact
- The field is more visible and credible to mainstream
- People are supported and welcomed to the community, find where they can contribute and quickly learn how to contribute meaningfully to the collective.
- Simple, friendly digital tools support our global connections and knowledge
